STATEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

About Statements and Documents

Statements and Documents allows company users to view statements and other documents, such as notices, for analysis, checking, credit card, loan, and savings accounts.

When a company is set up with the Statements & Documents service the company's Administrator is responsible for setting up accounts for online delivery of statements and documents. Company administrators are also responsible for reviewing and accepting service agreements/disclosures relative to statements and documents.

The Manage Alerts page includes alerts to which company users can subscribe to be notified automatically when statements and documents are available.
